4.1 Example Programs

The following paragraphs provide descriptions of the floodplain management programs implemented by Lake County, Illinois; City of Tulsa, Oklahoma; and Johnson County, Kansas. Figure 4-1 shows the geographic location where each program was implemented. The selected example programs were chosen for their geographic proximity and similar demographics to Lincoln and their comprehensive and proactive approaches to floodplain management. These approaches have successfully provided flood hazard mitigation while allowing for additional growth and development.